

The Subversion of Reality by the Mass Media

Today media fiction is paramount, reality has not taken a backseat it has been effectively all but eliminated. A few ignored voices continue to state the obvious, like where is the evidence for all these repetitive media claims, none has ever been produced nor could it be for the obvious simple reason that none exists? If they had it they would produce it to emphasise and convince the masses their stories are accurate! It's ALL media lies/fiction, 'Russiagate' being the foremost at this time.

Of course there is a reason for this monumental duplicity from our ruling elites. Reality, the TRUTH, is not convenient, as it opposes elite agendas; whereas designed lies and the fictive narratives they spawn, are supremely suited for political purposes to crucify character, control and manipulate entire populations into participating in illegals wars, for example, etc, etc.

Now note the shrill response to Trump's summit with Putin, one would think that WWII had been declared and that America is existentially under threat from Russia; however, reality dictates none of this, in fact Russian leaders and the people cannot even comprehend western media's fictions as they are so far removed from reality that unexposed groups and nations are not able to digest the material, however, exposed local populations are nose-ringed by it and have abandoned discriminative thought, research in the public domain, for the media drip-feed, which is the medium of social control in our age.

Misinformation rules the herd, which voluntarily submits to the lies as they are warm and fuzzy and confirm our biases or instill fear, bogey men, which our 'brave' leaders would protect us from, though the bogey men only exist in the FEEBLE minds of the duped.

Trump, without knowing it, has unleashed the LYING beast for all to see, however, few have stepped back for a broader view, which would expose the game at play, 'perception management' and social control by the elite few, assisted by the mass media they own, as they have an agenda. A little research reveals that the core narratives of western 'news' are shaped and designed by the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR), a Rockefeller formed organisation, the members of which OWN today's concentrated mass media.

And so these elite oligarchs and plutocrats serve their own interests (accumulating more money/power) by duping and managing the public, plain to see. Consider the fact that the last industries to remain local are the weapons/military/technological industries and who is it that requires their supplies? Agencies, CIA, NSA, FBI, warriors (Pentagon) and the Banks that issue the means of development. Now how do war based industries survive? By fighting enemies of course, and where none exist they are fabricated/created. For instance, the last thing China or Russia are interested in is WAR, fact. China is developing a huge infrastructure in the northern hemisphere to enhance TRADE and Russia is on board but has its own development problems, now these two superpowers if they were indeed threatening would spend the majority of their GDP on their military, however, combined, they only spend a FRACTION of what America spends on its military/industrial/techno industries, surely that FACT alone speaks volumes. China spends the vast majority on infrastructure development and trade, Russia is forced to create an economy that fulfills the needs of its population, no more Soviet subsistence, Russians want quality goods and better living standards which demand, pulls funds into those areas, nevertheless, Russia is forced to spend a percentage on the military to maintain its par standing with America as a superpower.

Now consider that all military developments become redundant in a hurry and must be replaced with the latest designed weapons/products, BUT what to do with all the accumulated old models? Sell them to allies and vassals for huge profits and clear the stores so as to be able to create more advanced weapons. However, these sales depend on the existence of 'threats/enemies' and that is why Russiagate and Trump's attempts to create good relations with Russia have been hysterically opposed, I have never witnessed the media adopt such a shrill, hysterical tone, where no real threats exist; it's media panic stations due to the REAL threat on LOCAL profits for the few. No-one in their right mind, particularly the Russians or Chinese would contemplate attacking the USA, nor would the USA -- in its right mind, which is lacking today -- attack other nuclear superpowers, so what is it all really about, have you deduced yet? It's all a croc of money making shit for the elite few!

At any time the mass media constantly pursues a narrative line you can be sure it's based on lies and fabrications; if the accusers DO NOT produce EVIDENCE to support their absurd claims, then we could all confidently assume it's just another BIG LIE. However, the proof is in the pudding, demand substantive evidence at ALL times, not innuendo, inference, hysteria or very loose theories and false discourse from our 'trustworthy' media, talking heads. What a pathetic, TRANSPARENT circus!

There is an old adage that says, ONE TRUTH demolishes a trillion lies, well you have just been served the TRUTH and furthermore it can be tested, DEMAND PROOF and see what you get -- LOL!
