

Anonymous Op-ed Reveals Cowardly Subversion and Unelected Secret Rule

The anonymous op-ed published foolishly by the NYT has backfired spectacularly. Everything that its writer/s seemed to plan has engendered the reverse reaction.

From the outset the op-ed claims that Trump is an incompetent and dangerous president, hardly a secret, which FACT of course NECESSITATES invoking the 25th Amendment, which the writer/s seem extremely reluctant to invoke, offering an extremely FEEBLE excuse as the reason. So what is the primary message/transmission here? Double gutlessness and the big one is letting the nation down and not fulfilling their SWORN responsibility to the people. So we can easily identify the writer/s as double cowards, first hiding behind anonymity and second not having the spine to invoke the 25th THOUGH they are clearly OBLIGED by the Constitution and their SWORN OATHS; clearly these people are NOT fit to hold any government office, plain as day according to their own very badly planned text.

This is quite revealing in the sense that the obvious plan was to subvert Trump not themselves, and as the old adage goes, "Oh, what tangled webs we weave"

It seems that after NUMEROUS analyses and commentary by divergent sources it is the anonymous writer/s that are coming out second best. In so many words THEY admit they neither have the guts or necessary character to take the proper legal course and invoke the 25th, so who are these CHICKEN-SHITS defined as such by their own textual admission?

The other HUGE revelation, unintended, is that they have in fact broken the law by directly opposing/subverting the democratically elected President of the United (not for long) States by clandestine means, when the LEGAL course would be to invoke the 25th, which FAILURE of course indicates that these people are not only spineless, gutless cowards, they are criminals, admitted openly in the text -- while this behavior is not technically a treasonous offense it sure is a HUGE TRAITOROUS offense for which due punishments APPLIED under the law would be entirely appropriate.

Of course the op-ed and the above commentary also clearly reveals that secret cabals are in fact running the country, which makes the much touted model of American democracy a TOTAL FARCE/JOKE internationally, good work op-ed writer/s, you have also subverted the founding principle of the nation and made the USA an international laughing stock!

You would soon regret the day you foolishly abandoned reason and legal means for a kindergarten attempt at subverting the office of president of the USA, as clearly you haven't got a clue about either, which ironically advertises to the PUBLIC how completely incompetent YOU are.

My advice therefore is, you had better hope you are not publicly exposed, as seems an impossibility for two reasons, if heat is applied on legal grounds and everyone ducks for cover to save themselves, you would be given up; the other is culturally known as, shit floats; so expect exposure as you would the rising sun.

If indeed the perpetrator it is a single person, suicide would be your only feasible option, you have nowhere to go or hide from here, obvious; however, if it is a cabal or group, then expect more than the worst as you have proven YOURSELVES to be of the lowest quality of human being and woe to you all as you would be subject to the law of the land. And if perchance any of you are on the square, expect no help for a widow's son.
