

The Time Thieves (This is NOT Science Fiction)

Reality is only located in the NOW, as clearly yesterday has passed and tomorrow does not exist, all nature and the cosmos exist only in the now yet the mass media constantly steals us away from the present therefore nothing is done to address and remedy the horrid present of needless wars for the profit of the few, crimes against humanity committed by same, monstrous social inequalities not seen since the slaves and Pharaohs of ancient Egypt, etc; the list is endless simply because WE are not HERE to address and cure the social ills of the NOW.

Open any 'news' (distraction) outlet, mass media or alternative and you would discover that few listings deal with current emergencies, such as runaway climate change, the illegal wars America directly pursues and also supports with weapons sales, Yemen, Syria, Afghanistan for instance. Then there's local injustices and tragedies like HUGE wage disparity for no VALID reason, other than the unbridled greed and avarice of nefarious elites that have already concentrated the greater percentage of available wealth in their slimy hands; look around NOW and see the ugly real world and ask why and how we got here and you would be in for a shock.

I am always struck by the inconsequential news on Trump that saturates all media though Trump is a completely known quantity/entity, divorced from reality, ignorant LIAR, blowhard and sick (NPD) ego-maniac. The piece I refer to is related to his chances in 2020, give me a break, the nutter is ruining everything NOW and must be dealt with now. Consider the distracting and intentionally extended Mueller case, or non-case, against Trump over Russian collusion -- as stated on numerous previous occasions, ALL the information required to indict or clarify the situation is and has always been in the hands of the NSA, which agency has remained mute on the subject, again for intentional reasons.

YOU SEE, the media time thieves MUST distract away from the present by whatever means available as the people must never be allowed to dwell on the REALITY of their current circumstances or the ugly reality of the machinations of an overtly criminal STATE. Do not focus on the criminal elites focus on the fabricated case against Assange instead, and the elites remain safe.

Also consider how numerous generations today are unable to deal with REALITY and you may get a glimpse of a truly urgent situation which we all (billions of souls) could EASILY remedy N-O-W.

We live only in the present, where the ACTION (or social non-action) is, and if the present is never dealt with are we really living? No, by any stretch of the media-led imagination.

Living standards are plummeting but keep focused on 2020 or some other past or future irrelevancy, so the powers that actually function in the present are afforded FREE REIGN to pursue their EVIL agendas. Can you not see your current circumstances? Whichever western nation you may inhabit, the filthy rich grow richer and the average and poor grow poorer, that is the REALITY but while your life/time in the present is effectively stolen, where are you? In another realm, a fantasy that has no impact on the REAL WORLD.

Reading about change and hope is not effecting change, real suffering is not media projected 'joy;' take a good look at your CURRENT situation and ask how you got there, then maybe, just maybe the catastrophic problems that affect the entire world may be dealt with.

There are many ways to steal lives and paralyse entire societies, how else do YOU imagine a tiny, unrepresentative innately WEAK minority rules the world and enslaves billions. It's time to stomp on the filthy cockroaches and clean YOUR kitchen.
