

Have You Noticed? Trump Is Now Inconsequential on World Stage

But what do 'they,' America's ruling elite, care? Simply put, they don't, as world leaders are aware that Trump is merely a dispensable puppet president that is sent on errands by/for the corporate/banker elites. And if he fails to succeed in his allotted tasks then of course he is removed and replaced by someone more able and willing to unflinchingly serve minority, unrepresentative elites -- so much for American 'Democracy' (majority rule) in the meantime.

It strikes me that I could end this article here, America is truly a LOST cause. Mueller is closing in on failed puppet Trump while of course China and Russia are closing in on America. And if you are one of the many uninformed Americans you may soon wonder how and why it has come to this? Well, YOU should know, as you failed to rein in those criminal rogues that hijacked your Republic -- now sit with your thumbs up your arses and watch as the house comes tumbling down. You have already LOST the "great game" and replacing Trump won't change anything of consequence. "Home of the brave, land of the free," my arse! You have allowed yourselves to be completely enslaved; try, go on try and do something about it, you'll SEE that your not worth a pinch of shit, and the WORLD knows it!
