

Who Butters Bob Woodward's Bread Today?

by jess Thursday, Dec 27 2018, 6:40pm

international / prose / post

Journalist Bob Woodward of 'Watergate' fame, seems to have lost his way OR has capitulated to elite interests, as this disgraceful article clearly indicates.

Point your finger at yourself, you thorough Disgrace.

Sure, we all know that Trump is chaos and imbecility personified, however, his move to withdraw troops from Syria and Afghanistan is very sound policy if these troops are not being withdrawn to wage another illegal war. But to lament the resignation of 'Mad Dog' General Mattis is absurd, though the mass media is portraying him as the only 'adult' in Trump's 'room,' past tense. Ridiculous! The guy is a war hawk and good riddance to him. He adheres to the US permanent war strategy, which has seen China take over the world with business development -- it doesn't take a genius to work out that beneficial business relations wins friends, so much for US brute force/violence, the ruination of weaker states, the mass murder of innocents and flooding the WORLD with refugees!

So Bob, perhaps a broader, unbiased perspective, or would you rather go down in history as a reprehensible turn-coat, sell-out? I could scarcely believe your flagrant propaganda, TRASH. It just goes to show that the rarest commodities in journalism TODAY are, integrity and fearlessness -- you sir, have miserably failed your profession!