

The American Shutdown Paralysis

by abe Thursday, Jan 17 2019, 8:02pm

international / prose / post

Thousands of public servants are working without pay to satisfy no more than the petty ego plays of politicians that clearly do NOT give a damn for the people -- that is obvious. This shutdown is a standoff between Trump and his political opposition, to which consequences for American families insular politicians are oblivious.

Couldn't give a damn! Those Responsible must pay the price, NOT innocent citizens.

Well, in such stupid and dire circumstances for those not receiving living wages, there is an obvious solution, those affected must demonstrate to these undemocratic, uncaring politicians that they indeed are able to fight back via massive 'go-slow' or outright STRIKE campaigns, which should include (SOLIDARITY) other workers supporting struggling workers affected by Trump's and Pelosi's pathological egos -- the people have needlessly suffered enough.

Strikes must target the private and public sectors in order to wake self-centred and insular politicians to REALITY -- people are hurting bad and no-one seems to care and if that is an accurate assessment then there's NO CHOICE but to FIGHT back with paralysing STRIKES.

Politicians MUST learn -- one way or the other -- that the country is indeed in the hands of the PEOPLE.