

Venezuela and the REALITY of American Imperialism

by rod Friday, Jan 25 2019, 8:06pm

international / prose / post

The outworn feeble justification the USA utilises to illegally pursue 'regime change' (an international crime in itself) around the globe is tattered to ribbons today, the LIE of spreading 'liberty, democracy and freedom' -- what a farce/laugh. Now note that when the US-sponsored Arab spring uprising strategy failed to install compliant Washington puppet governments, in Egypt particularly, America quickly subverted the new democratic process and deposed democratically elected leaders in favour of servile to Washington puppet leaders.

Putin and Maduro

The same applies all over the world. The latest HYPOCRITICAL endeavour is regime change in Venezuela, America is now attempting to oust a legitimate democratically elected leader again and install a Washington compliant puppet regime. You see, the words 'democracy, liberty and freedom,' are nothing more than that, WORDS, as America is really about American hegemony/imperialism and maintaining control of other resource rich and strategically crucial weaker nations.

In other words, the USA is the last country in the world that supports REAL democracy, as is historically CLEAR and verifiable; whenever any weaker nation elects a government that Washington disapproves of, America intervenes and ousts that government as it did in Australia in the 70's when left leaning PM, Gough Whitlam, was democratically elected by the Australian PEOPLE to serve THEIR interests NOT elite interests. Well, the rest is history, America intervened and Whitlam was ousted in favour of a knee-walking, to Washington, conservative compliant government.

In fact, on nearly all occasions the USA has disrupted the stability and peace of other nations, history records the events for posterity for anyone to research. And that recorded history tells an accurate and sordid story of a criminal mass murdering Imperial State attempting to enslave the WORLD, which is the ultimate ambition of the sick financial and corporate elites that really rule the USA, as representative democracy has long been dead in America.

So what is new in American criminal enterprises, fake and orchestrated coups/wars, regime change (resource theft) etc. -- absolutely nothing?

However, today these criminal enterprises are no longer secret or hidden from the WORLD, they are exposed the instant they occur and that is NEW. People everywhere are extremely aware that an imperial, non-representative globalist elite owns their governments. So, what are the future prospects for the USA and puppet US serving governments around the globe? Not very good I would venture to say, as the 'yellow vest' movement in France clearly indicates; people KNOW they are being shafted today and as time and corruption progresses the USA and the west would become more unstable, and that result without any interference from other nations -- growing protests, and social revolutions in the west would be and are ALL home grown.

The attempted take-over of Venezuela now becomes a matter for the Venezuelan people resisting foreign, interfering imperialist elites and their local puppets, notwithstanding that the legitimate, democratically elected government of Venezuela has support from other powerful nations at this time.

The US orchestrated SECOND coup attempt may fail dramatically in essentially the same manner the first coup attempt failed, by popular support for the democratically elected legitimate government, not a corrupted fascist puppet that would endeavour to do the bidding of Washington, and I would be very careful taking US corruption money at this time, as the people may not stand for it and offer corrupt offenders for trial and execution for treason, if they survive angry mobs. The prospects of success at this time are very slim indeed, for numerous reasons; in fact those wishing to usurp the legitimate government are playing with fire, as ALL 'promises' made by the USA, that puppets would be protected, are just that, LIES -- as there is no way protection could be effected in the nation as it stands today, and treasonous perpetrators would quickly be apprehended and severely dealt with, after due legal process they would ALL face execution if found guilty of their obvious treason.

So puppets, are the risks worth it? Clearly not, as the USA has a HISTORY of abandoning its useful-idiot puppets when the going gets tough and/or Washington faces compromise -- learn from history you avaricious power-hungry TRAITORS. The Venezuelan PEOPLE this time around would have your avaricious, traitorous throats!

Meanwhile American 'democracy, liberty and freedom' has become the laughable LIE the world no longer believes, WHILE REAL REPRESENTATIVE DEMOCRACY is slowly but surely becoming a reality everywhere. The feeble, transparent lies that emanate from the American mass media are only believed by uninformed Americans. As for American imperialists, you can't rule a world in which you have absolutely no respect.

Xi and Maduro

Inverse Times Open Publishing. <http://inversetimes.lingama.net/news/story-447.html>