

Trump Dressed Down by World Leaders at G7 leaving Kim Jong Un Smiling

by gerry Sunday, Jun 10 2018, 11:23pm

international / prose / post

When a political and social ignoramus is sent to a meeting with other world leaders that know their stuff, the outcome is assured, the ignoramus, armed only with the social/political awareness of a gnat, would have no intelligent answers to provide in defence of his regressive policies and that is exactly what occurred at the G7, which embarrassing occurrence forced Trump to return home with his tail between his legs after the Canadian prime minister delivered the brutal final blow. Though of course the privately owned partial mass media attributed the early exit to preparation for the summit with Kim Jong Un in Singapore, but as we all should know by now, clueless Trump is told what to do and say by his handlers, foremost among them, John Bolton, arch-neoconservative from the Bush era, which makes sense as it is the neoconservatives that determine foreign policy in Washington.

Neoconservative John Bolton, Trump's latest handler

Trump's idiotic REGRESSIVE policies of old-world trade wars and tariffs directly oppose globalisation which was primarily implemented by US corporations desiring to exploit the world and free themselves from such barriers and protectionism and it worked for a while, until Trump.

So, how ever one interprets the G7 fiasco for Trump one outcome is unmistakable, Trump cannot contend intelligently with other world leaders -- which reality should be a given today.

However, the most hilarious aspect of the G7 fiasco issued directly from Washington regarding Trump's belittling and dressing down by other world leaders in attendance, which was delivered to the WORLD'S media by "top White House economic adviser," as he is called, Larry Kudlow, who stated on CNN that Trump "is not going to permit any show of weakness" before his summit with Kim Jong Un -- really, well it may be a little late for that, Mr Kudlow!

Furthermore, to twist that idiotic dagger/statement giving the truth away, Kudlow added, "Kim must not see American weakness," clearly imply that America is weak and should hide the fact, though unfortunately the entire world has already witnessed Trump's weakness and custard face. It truly is regrettable for America and especially for you, Mr Kudlow that Kim is not blind and does not live under a rock, like Trump.

Kim quite accurately views Trump as an ignorant, incompetent “dotard” and who could argue that reality successfully? So the summit only has one feasible direction, as Bolton-Trump would no doubt make impossible demands that no world leader could accept, and that is Bolton’s plan; however, the (America’s) failure would be delivered by the partial mass media as Kim’s fault entirely, for not acquiescing to impossible, unacceptable demands from Washington. Now note on previous occasions when America persuaded other world leaders to conform with Washington’s wishes, Saddam (Iraq) and Gaddafi (Libya) and surrender their WMD, both nations were immediately invaded and their leaders assassinated. I mean really, how stupid does America imagine Asians are? Perhaps as stupid as dotard Trump, the perpetual political LOSER.

"Kim must not see American weakness!" -- HE ALREADY HAS, not least because he has already run rings around and outwitted Trump himself, though I would eagerly analyse what transpired at the summit, that is, if it is covered accurately by our ‘trustworthy’ western media. So go for it, Donald and John, you LAME, incompetent ducks.

Inverse Times Open Publishing. <http://inversetimes.lingama.net/news/story-49.html>