

Russia, the US and Venezuela

by jaxie Thursday, Mar 28 2019, 8:53pm

international / prose / post

It seems that Russia has finally grown some balls after disgracefully abandoning traditional ally Yugoslavia/Serbia, then Libya, and taking overly cautious, stop-start interventions in Syria, however, today it would seem that Russia FINALLY is showing that it won't back down in Venezuela or abandon another ally in its greatest time of need.

Now consider the protestations of the USA (see link below) outraged by Russia's support for Maduro. America with its double standards blazing on its sleeve, denounced Russia's legal and legitimate support for ally Venezuela and its legitimate leader, Maduro, when it is common knowledge that the USA is the WORLD'S leader in flouting international LAW with its grossly illegal 'regime change' policy, notwithstanding America completely disregards sovereignty LAWS when it targets a nation for takeover and resource theft -- reviewing modern history does wonders for American dreamboats glued to and governed by, the CFR shaped, lying, local mass media.

America invades weaker nations steals their resources, murders millions of INNOCENTS in the process then has the hide to lecture Russia for legally supporting an ally, which nation to date, has no illegal blood on its hands. Furthermore, it's not Russia that has almost one thousand military bases of occupation around the globe, particularly when many affected nations protest these bases and forced occupation, nevertheless, America stubbornly remains illegally, but not for long.

I really do not know why Russian FM Lavrov, is so timid when in this instance, it's simply a matter of 'blow it out your mass murdering, criminal arse, America;' and then with the leaders of other nations affected by American imperialism, begin legal proceedings to prosecute the living neocon criminals engaged currently and in the past, in these criminal interventions of theft, destruction and mass murder. Reparations MUST be sought and US criminals must be brought to justice -- are you reading this ICC, you bunch of politicised, lackey cowards, the evidence of American CRIMES is OVERWHELMING today, so where are you hiding in the Hague? No doubt under the same table you pocketed your envelopes of cash.

So I would, if Lavrov won't -- state plainly, BLOW it out your arse America, and prepare for legal action in appropriate international jurisdictions. You haven't got a leg to stand on as your crimes have been proven and RECORDED again and again, and Venezuela is simply the latest example of a failed, interfering coup/intervention attempt, which obvious subversion attempt should also be submitted to the courts, notwithstanding the initial grossly illegal amputation of Kosovo from Serbia. Where's your support there, Russia?

Neocons, you may have the American people living in a dreamworld, but that does not apply to the rest of the world. However, dragging you before international courts to answer the many charges brought against you by many nations, may assist average Americans in realising that their government has been COMPLETELY hijacked by criminal, corporate interests.

<https://indianpunchline.com/russia-throws-down-the-gauntlet-to-us-on-venezuela/>

