Well, isn't that insane statement from Washington officials just typical of the US attempting to create another Orwellian Inversion of reality. Here's the reality: Russia, conforming to international and Venezuelan LAW, particularly the sovereign rights of ally Venezuela, has landed military advisors and elite troops to repel Washington's illegal transparent coup attempt in that country. So now the lunatic, criminal fuck-knuckles in Washington are offended that Russia is foiling their plans for the illegal appropriation of extremely valuable Venezuelan resources. Well lump it Washington clowns, the WORLD sees right through your pathetic intrigues and corrupt manipulations. You will not succeed.

[The USA remains the world's leading civilian killing nation, therefore, by definition, the USA remains the world's leading terrorist State, plain, simple and true. That is Reality, not Washington neocon spin and overt LIES. So, Washington clowns, give it your best shot as you have no LEGAL leg to stand on; furthermore, you are digging your own grave.]
