

Russiagate Perpetrated Hoax, An Outstanding Success

The nose-ringed population are easily led, and that includes the fraternity of the alternative media, which it seems are more easily distracted by the mass media than the herd.

Now here's the eye-opener and choke on it, alt-media clowns. What successful outcome did Russiagate accomplish, CENSORSHIP? Yes, the sweeping censorship of alternative media, which were all branded as Russian trolls and stooges disseminating 'fake news' simply because they reported accurate, verifiable facts and alternative narratives opposed to prevailing mainstream fictions.

Indeed, alternative media readership has been reduced by roughly 80% across the board, so why didn't you pick it up earlier and run with the designed intent of Russiagate, which hoax the perpetrators knew from the outset would fail to compromise Trump (the absence of hard evidence), but it did serve to distract the public for years while the nefarious deep state continued to pursue its evil agenda uninterrupted and most importantly, out of the public eye. And what is that agenda, no secret, world hegemony/domination and the subsequent appropriation of valuable resources by any means, though the first lunatic ambition failed BUT the media served to keep focus off deep states intrigues and its grossly illegal activities. However, the quashing of alt-media readership was a resounding success, and as Shakespeare said, "things are not always what they appear to be."

Of course, the media is my specialty so it was a simple matter to detect how false narratives were/are designed and for what purpose they are disseminated. Now, alt-media 'geniuses,' who should know better, look at your site stats and weep. It was Russiagate and its deadly, planned spin-off effect that crucified you.

So in future take heed of Shakespeare and media experts or learn to live with the consequences of being led by the nose and blinded by the mass media.

Fair dinkum, is there anyone besides the nefarious elites and their hired expert help that knows what they are doing in the media-blinded USA?
