

Who's to Blame? YOU Are!

by jess Saturday, Apr 6 2019, 10:16pm

international / prose / post

There comes a time when Reality and the horrors of OUR monumental failures must be faced.

Who was it that failed to demand the arrest and trial of Blair, Howard, Bush and his administration after it was proven they ALL lied regarding the illegal invasion of Iraq? The accurate answer is the global masses which failed itself - and the result is perpetual war on the world in order to increase the profits of the military/industrial complex, primarily weapons manufacturers and the OIL industries - which reality is now obvious. But it's not too late, HOWEVER, the masses CONTINUE to fail themselves, as REAL democracy is a participatory system and if we are NOT involved in maintaining justice, law, order and equality we lose all our hard won rights as is evident TODAY. So do not shit me with it's Trump or another western puppet leader that is responsible, because it's You!

Our failures are enormous today, remedial climate intervention when warnings were clearly given by reputable scientists in 1973 about the outcomes of increasing levels of CO2 which effects are seen today. Evil elite monetary forces, after utilising distraction strategies, and employing bought scientists etc, for years, are saying that it's NOW too late so we'll have to contend with the devastating effects of induced climate change, which they denied from the start.

But who was it that failed to intervene all the decades since the 70's? Of course the answer is staring you in the mirror! Today it is young school children who form the vanguard of protests regarding runaway climate change and still the powers that be, refuse to listen or act to remediate, though they know the consequences of inaction but their SICK addiction to profit overrides every other consideration, shame on every adult in the world for allowing these known lunatics to destroy the balance and harmony of the earth; school children disgrace their parents and every adult in the world that remains passive and apathetic, children know that it is they who would inherit all OUR failures, shame, shame, shame on every apathetic adult who could care less for the next generation.

Who was it that failed to oppose draconian, anti-democratic surveillance laws, of course, AGAIN, the people of the world; today every nation that can afford these technologies has implemented them and to what end? Not to protect the public, a lame excuse, as the latest Christchurch massacre proves, but to increase elite profits by targeting monitored individuals for sales and advertising dollars. Politicians LIED about the Iraq and subsequent wars and they LIED about surveillance protecting the public, which today is obvious.

All the democratic world's major political parties are bought and owned by plutocratic elites, the people have not been REPRESENTED for decades, obvious to all - our bought politicians serve their masters, unrepresentative, minority, filthy rich elites.

Wealth disparity today has not been seen since the time of Pharaohs in ancient Egypt, the elites hog 99% of all available wealth but who tolerates this appalling disparity/injustice? The useless masses AGAIN, and you dare point the finger at others, usually convenient but innocent scapegoats! Look in the mirror, if you have the guts, and repeat, the failure is MINE.

WE the PEOPLE have failed ourselves in so many respects this small article could become a treatise, however, enough has been covered to make the undeniable point - it is NOT the other (scapegoats and leaders) that are responsible for the current state of the social and natural world, it is YOU.

Now if you had the character and spine you would do something about the many injustices and crimes against humanity committed daily by the nefarious elites, but I already know you do not possess a conscience or have what it takes, but your children do, shame on all of YOU for not defending your CHILDREN, rights and liberties and allowing criminals to hijack your nations; and you do not need me to inform you that there will be HELL to pay for YOUR many continuing FAILURES.

---

Inverse Times Open Publishing. <http://inversetimes.lingama.net/news/story-562.html>