

The News Is ...

Today and over the past two decades it (news) follows scripts, false narratives designed by ruling elites and disseminated by their privately owned propaganda arm, the mass media - absolutely nothing in the mass media is worth reading unless you prefer fiction, distortions, omissions of facts and DISTRACTION, which is its chief commission/purpose - would you expect anything else from a plutocrat owned mass media?

And while you are distracted reading orchestrated 'news/propaganda/fictions,' which is INTENDED to steal your focus away from critical issues that affect you -- such as wealth disparity, engineered stagnant wages and its consequent DEBT slavery -- you lose yourself in a fabricated dream, what you think, see and hear is shaped by algorithms, which collective effect amount to what has been called in that industry, "perception management," which translates as psychological and behavioural enslavement by the mass media, particularly the digital media, which mega-companies lead the field in shaping the false realities it produces in which you, as an unaware consumer, live, while of course it simultaneously targets addicted/enslaved users for sales profits by inducements, NOT need.

Engineered debt slavery and induced psychological FEAR are the real news but have you seen it covered on the mass media, not a chance. But it's REAL, insidious and affects everyone.

What happened to your leisure time if you live in America particularly? Gone in the struggle to make ends meet. Remember, fair wages result in free time and free time allows for free thinking and that prospect is anathema to ruling elites that are acutely aware that at anytime the masses choose, elite minority rule is over and existing, known elites would be squashed underfoot like the PARASITES, murderers and cockroaches they area. You see, it is a matter of necessity that elites MUST deceive the masses in order to survive and maintain control - after all, you do all the dying and suffering in all the designed, illegal, perpetual wars of mass murder and resource theft, while elites laugh and add to their ill-gotten wealth, destroying nations and the lives of millions of people in the process. That is what they really think of YOU, nothing - you are an EXPENDABLE resource ONLY, all of you. Eat shit and learn to like it, as that is all you would ever get with the existing stats quo.

The fact that your once free democratic nations have been hijacked by these criminal elites, which rule from the shadows, is NOT news as that occurred decades past. All your so-called democratic elections are a STAGED farce/charade, does anyone with a few brain cells think otherwise? Your presidents, prime ministers, politicians are all bought PUPPETS, sell-outs, as if you didn't know, they serve big business and elite interests while lying through their teeth to the people; YOU cannot deny it. YET you are ready to play the failed election game time and again and witness, time and again its FAILURE, while you are duped, sold out and screwed, countless times. What is wrong with you, I'd really like to know?

So to end this piece, on its principal note; there is NO news, the mechanism was the same in ancient Egypt, Rome and countless other empires; and as we know from history Empires come and go but the ONE undeniable constant throughout that history is that SLAVES have remained the most important indispensable element to large societies, without which no elites, wars, injustice, and inequality could ever exist; INDEED if anyone/thing is to blame or at fault IT'S YOU accepting your slave status, as you have always done throughout recorded history - and if you want my opinion, the lot of you make me sick, CLEARLY, YOU DESERVE WHAT YOU GET! Nothing would ever change if yo do not, and elites literally bank on the fact that you are consistent.

Nevertheless, CHANGE is always possible BUT it MUST start with YOU, that is the TRUTH!
