

Why Bother?

Indeed, what is new about the NEWS, nothing! It's the same old lies and propaganda and the same old elites tailoring and managing the script/herd to serve THEIR agendas, not our hopes and aspirations. In fact voting is a waste of time, Australia's recent federal election was noted for the huge amount of informal votes, as voting is compulsory, but that alone doesn't force people to choose between a vomit or a turd, hence meaningless votes - is that real freedom/democracy, do YOU really count? If you imagine you have any say in the direction your nation takes you are dreaming. Minority elite RULING interests ensure they maintain power by forcing populations to elect one or the other bought and owned, politicians who wouldn't even be able to stand for election without elite support. Don't kid yourselves.

Elite owned media maintains its distractions by appealing to raw emotion not reason, they can't have people reasoning or using their intellects, so of course they must always appeal to the intellect/reason-devoid emotional response in order to ensure that our attention is NEVER focused on them and their criminal agendas . Divide and conquer remains the rule, left against right, black against white in the literal and metaphorical sense, tribalism over unified nations and a unified world, how else could GLOBAL elites have ruled for centuries, you dumb, enslaved, nose-ringed, easily managed, fucks?

Titillate, distract, lie, anything to appeal to the emotions, never appeal to reason, common sense, and fair play as those pursuits would inevitably result in questioning the status quo of elite rule and slave populations. Ensure that the executive class, maintains its absurd unjustifiable incomes and that slave populations, working for peanuts, think its natural to be screwed on a daily basis, keep them (you) in debt and on subsistence incomes as that prevents time to reflect on the unfair social reality. Make life a constant struggle when there is clearly enough for all but the all goes to elites that only issue enough for average people to survive in constant DEBT, and YOU mindless, slave morons imagine you are free - give me a break! NEWS, what NEWS?

Reform, REAL change, and the restoration of democracy only occurs if we ALL participate directly in the process BUT we are prevented by the two major party system which offers only one of two bought and owned detestable choices, show me One national leader that is NOT a puppet to elite interests today.

You count for nothing in other words, and you deserve it as you allow a handful of treacherous, murdering criminals to manage and deceive you by swallowing their LIES and divisive propaganda.

Unplug yourselves from that sinister media drip-feed and then you would be able to at least think clearly and REALISE that you are an exploited, expendable, SLAVE. And when you understand that and the reasons for your enslavement, rage would possess you followed by the need to reform and change the evil status quo.

Do NOT fight your neighbour as your neighbour is YOU, FIGHT the self-declared masters of the world and restore justice, peace and prosperity for ALL. You have allowed available wealth to be hogged by a handful of greedy bastards who are keenly aware you are able to tread them underfoot any time YOU choose, but you MUST be united only one front - not difficult - eliminating the slave traders; HENCE all the divisive media propaganda, perpetual wars and associated induced fear, when there is nothing to fear except your cowardice. Need I continue as you already know everything stated above?

And remember that it only requires unity on one, single objective, obliterate the ruling elites and their media hold on you, thereby your lives and nations are restored to what they were before they were hijacked by criminal elites

WE ARE ONE!
