

Overlooked Chelsea (Bradley) Manning Fighting at the Coal Face of LIBERTY

by stacey Thursday, Jun 6 2019, 5:24pm

international / prose / post

Firstly, fuck political correctness (PC) and other forms of internalised psychological self-policing in the current Orwellian western world - indeed, fuck every attempt by the masters of the universe, elites, to psychologically and socially oppress the FREE people of the world, which elites fear, in fact they are terrified that the global masses would one day achieve their freedom, which is inevitable as most of the chains that bind the masses are media induced, fear based, psychological chains, which are easily broken as proven time and again by Chelsea Manning, who is currently being subjected to another round of political incarceration by a clearly CRIMINAL STATE. Which incarceration is clearly coercive NOT punitive, as the criminal state attempts to silence those that expose its CRIMES.

Chelsea (Bradley) Manning

So, I return to the diminutive, of physical stature, but GIANT in CHARACTER, gay transvestite, Chelsea Bradley Manning currently jailed for defending his/her/OUR freedoms, to which the alternative and mainstream media pay little regard - yet Manning is a hero in every sense of the word his/her tenacity, bravery, and sheer will power astound me compared to wimps like Julian Assange, which entity, it could easily be argued, was made by Manning; where would Wikileaks/Assange be without Manning's initial actions. Understand that Wikileaks was/is simply a communication platform but Manning took all the initial risks and was eventually busted by a gutless grass hacker he discussed his material with, indeed it seems that the hacker fraternity is noted by its gutless characters, Julian Assange included.

Look at Assange NOW faced with what Manning has already endured and overcome, he's like a child in diapers shitting himself openly and screaming for his mummy, well he is a mummy's boy after all. However, I would never fall for the media distraction trick so I return to the best example of a man/woman fighting for all our rights, MANNING, who is intentionally ignored by all media, Assange is a far better DISTRACTION and the privately owned elite corporate media would forever focus on Assange while the clowns in the alternative, nose-ringed, media follow suit. The result is we do not see or understand how one man/woman demonstrates to the world how to achieve our freedom by directly and FEARLESSLY opposing the slave masters and thoroughly corrupt state institutions that oppress us all, or haven't you noticed that we live in pan-surveilled police states, falsely tagged democracies? As now, following the American example, Australian Federal Police are raiding journalists and media outlets that expose State crime and planned socially oppressive future policies?

This is Manning's researched statement to the Nazi U.S. grand jury closed court that illegally sentenced him for refusing to compromise his/OUR principles and freedoms, read it here. So MANNING, not Assange, endures and fights the enemy of freedom on the front line directly, like the HERO he/she is. Assange would do well to show some balls rather than play helpless baby, screaming for others (his mother) to save him.

I and my comrades salute Chelsea Bradley Manning, REAL HERO of our time. And as for elites, you will never succeed, Assange is nothing, and all your surveillance and censorship efforts have only pushed freedom fighters underground, where you are unable to monitor their movements and communications, you supremely dumb, terrified asses - your day will come and I do not envy the results for YOU, as history informs us all, it won't be pretty.

In conclusion, 'onya you little gender confused GIANT wonder of our times.

<http://www.informationclearinghouse.info/51723.htm>

Inverse Times Open Publishing. <http://inversetimes.lingama.net/news/story-659.html>