

The USA and the Blowfly Syndrome

In my European country of birth, there exist numerous wise traditional adages/sayings, as in most mature cultures. One of my favourites is, "if you follow a blowfly it can only lead you to shit." Now let's apply those words of wisdom to the USA, leader of the western world in the context of East vs West, which America is pushing for all it's worth.

As a result of constructive economic policies and sophisticated political manoeuvring, the East is set to overtake the West on all fronts in the very near future. China is leading this push economically, with infrastructure banks, BRI, and cooperative, mutually beneficial business relations, SCO etc, with its alliance partner Russia, which leads the West in weapons development -- so clearly we already see an unbeatable force.

While America's adolescent approach to the world is one we could expect from a juvenile, pugnacious nation, its foreign policy can be reduced to a one word, WAR, to which America is addicted due to the counter-productive interests of the 'military industrial complex,' as it was known. Successive American administrations have no idea regarding diplomacy or the skills required to gain friends and secure progressive, mutually beneficial relations, as they want it all their way.

Now to address a myth, that America, still one of the strongest military powers in the world is somehow threatened by third world or developing nations which can barely feed their populations let alone attack a superpower, so we needn't entertain this myth/mass media lie further.

Since the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbour, no nation has really threatened America, it is widely known today that 9/11 was an inside job developed and executed by the Deep State, Israel and Saudi Arabia, with the aim to enable America to wage resource theft wars on any nation it accuses of 'terrorism,' notwithstanding America itself is the WORLD'S leading civilian killing, therefore terrorist, state -- Orwellian inversions abound in the USA.

However, America continues to LEAD the western world though that grip on other so-called allied nations is almost broken due to America's failing policy of perpetual WAR, as war is the only tool on offer to America. So it's always ultimatums that issue from Washington, not diplomacy or cooperative relations. And as is clearly evident this means is drastically and dramatically failing before our eyes.

So unless America is able to radically change in a hurry, which it cannot as it would have to dismantle what has taken decades to create, FAILING America today. So it becomes almost inevitable that the positive, PEACEFUL, approaches of the East will prevail, and those nations not part of this extraordinary development that continue to accept American rule will simple go down with their leader. Pathologically lying Pompeo, Trump and Bolton, can't convince anyone with three brain cells that Iran is a threat, simply because reality refutes all their (transparent) lying, contrived claims.

Now have you ever wondered how dogmatically communist China transformed itself from a push-bike economy in the 60's to economic powerhouse/supremacy it is today, because it's a very interesting story and is not the result of idiotic communist ideology, which only reads well, if that, but always fails in the real world?

Well, NOTE this astounding sequence of events. Soon after Chinese leader Deng Xiaoping, declared, "it's glorious to be rich," leading western banking interests made their move, principal among them the Rothschild family who set up offices in Beijing. The rest is history, China's meteoric rise to economic superpower was facilitated by the worlds most wealthy interests, $trillions and more were poured into China to develop manufacturing infrastructure in order to shift production to a far more cost effective nation, as Chinese worked for peanuts compared to western workers, so you need not wonder about off-shoring, those companies that did not shift manufacturing to China were soon overwhelmed by those that did, and please note that this was NOT a philanthropic or charity gesture by the worlds leading financial concerns, their eyes were firmly fixed on increasing THEIR PROFITS, and not to be dismissed, they loved the centralist, authoritarian, now fake communist control of the population, do it or we shoot you for counter-revolutionary tendencies. Chinese leaders, the Rothschild's and ilk were as happy as pigs in shit, though it should also be noted that European/American investors (banks) always imagined they could control China by manipulating the value of its currency on their owned and controlled stock market, BUT China refused to float its currency on Wall Street therefore western investors were unable to prevent China's rise at a pace never before seen in history and lost control although China has never reneged on its debts, it knows, from millennia of experience, not to push too hard too fast.

Now the story of how western unbridled greed backfired

Of course it was the world's largest corporations and banks that benefited most from this new 'globalist' off-shoring model, but the money was pouring in like the water of Niagra Falls, so to heck with minor problems, bought politicians would of course LIE to their people to prevent the real Truth emerging, that it was their own elites that sold them out, blame wet-backs, Arabs/Muslims, anyone, but never tell the truth to the people, who would no doubt seek to draw and quarter those responsible for their deprivations and drastic loss of living standards, and those lies continue today. Like 9/11, it was ALL an inside job.

For those that find the above hard to believe as I initially did, research the matter for yourselves, it's all in the public domain.

So China with the bit in its teeth was now unstoppable, and Russia/Putin, once a PAID lackey for the globalists, has now been forced by the threat of death from his military, to support his nation, Putin is corrupt to the bone but NOT stupid. So economic and military alliances were formed between nations now targeted by America, 'O, what tangled webs globalists weave,' and I should add that these mega-wealthy concerns have NO national allegiances so it matters little to them whether westerners or any other populations starve, as they simply must support those nations that increase THEIR wealth.

So look at the broader real picture today; you don't need to be a clairvoyant to see the future, America is in rapid decline, with complete ruin fast approaching along with other lackey to Washington, nations following close behind; and the NEW galloping East is rising like an unstoppable tsunami reaching the shore.

Bottom line, those nations that do not form alliances with the Eastern bloc of trade and development are doomed, plain to see. But don't worry average, uninformed Americans and the rest, the elite owned media will ensure you continue to live in a dreamworld until its too late.

Perhaps now you may wish to research, verify and implement real representative democracies – MAJORITY, not minority, RULE – in your respective, failing western nations.

Following America today is like following the proverbial blowfly.
