

US Drone Provocation

Clearly urged on/conned by Israel, Saudi Arabia and the UAE, America has finally succumbed. The recent shoot down of a US drone over Iranian air space, a fully justified defensive and legal act by Iran, is the latest DESPERATE attempt by this cabal of terror to provoke a war with Iran.

Now to see what will come of it, as quite obviously the American deep state and its partners in crime are hell bent on a war regardless of how transparent their machinations and recent FAILED false flag ploys are. Desperation has clearly overcome reason/sanity and so how is the world to react? Surely, NOT acquiescence! A first year law student could successfully prosecute a case against the USA in the Hague, if China and Russia, the only real deterrents, support and also launch LEGAL actions.

Since the criminal Clinton and Bush administrations, America has committed more war and other crimes against humanity than any other nation on earth this century. So what would you Russia and China? Not once have you utilised the LEGAL option to hold America accountable for its KNOWN war crimes which have resulted in millions of innocent CIVILIAN deaths.

If such legal actions were carried out by a combination of powerful and illegally attacked nations they would gain the support of the global population. Are you not able to see this? The entire world has had enough of the criminal USA and its partners in crime. So prosecute now, as such an action would either be successful or demonstrate to the world the reach of American corruption, straight to the 'impartial' international courts of the Hague, which would result in those courts becoming an international laughing stock and instigate necessary REFORMS.

Such an action would indeed be a game changer and set a new course that would eventually see KNOWN American criminals held to account by the international community - such are the brazen, obvious crimes committed by American high officials acting in the interests of secret cabals and the Deep State. And those actions should extend to the plutocrats that own the mass media, as their hands are also covered in innocent blood.

To allow another criminal war to occur without massive international resistance today is plainly nuts. Rogue criminal states MUST be stopped by every conceivable means otherwise the possibility of world peace, which ALL PEOPLE DESIRE, becomes an impossible dream. And a dream it is not, if we all act together.
