

Restoring LOST Democracies

by dee Saturday, Jul 13 2019, 12:14am

international / prose / post

Democracy by definition is rule by the MAJORITY, either directly or via Representation, which is more practical. However, what happens when our representatives renege on the deal and immediately begin to act in the interests of wealthy minorities? Answer: Democracy DIES, as there is no such thing as minority rule in any democracy, YET that is exactly the reality in every so-called democracy in the world today.

So without boring you with unnecessary political discourse of the pros and cons of a democratic political system, the solution to the one major problem plaguing all democracies is SIMPLE.

Democracy does NOT provide for our elected representatives to have carte blanche and do anything they want after they're elected, they MUST continue to serve MAJORITY interests regardless of any other factor. So clearly we now know why western democracies fail, the people are ignored immediately after an election. To cure this problem is to simply make our elected representatives ACCOUNTABLE to the PEOPLE at ALL TIMES during their tenures in office.

If any politician then strays the people would be able to throw them out of office and replace them with someone who would act in the interests of the PEOPLE at ALL times NOT in the interests of minority elites or themselves.

One can only wonder why this simple solution to fake democracies is not implemented as it is easily applied by popular DEMAND - the people must continue to have their democratic rights upheld at all times, that simple.

Corruption would then be eliminated as the people would immediately demand the removal of any unrepresentative or rogue political leader. Democracy is NOT only voting once every few years, it is maintaining the integrity of that vote and holding our leaders accountable to the people at ALL times.

We need only demand this simple change/solution in the process as the current non-accountable system is rigged for the abuse that plagues all democracies today. If we therefore make the DEMAND together, then our politicians MUST accede and obey or show their hand as corrupt FRAUDS.