

In Whose Interest?

by stacey Friday, Jun 22 2018, 1:51am

international / prose / post

It is farcical to imagine that ANY western government acts in the interests of the people today; all western governments serve their corporate and banker masters, fact, regardless of what they claim. Flying in the face of true Democracy the western world sees time and time again major parties promise this and that to the people and then renege on all their promises and act in the interests of the mega-rich and powerful MINORITY elites.

The question is why do we all continue to vote for lying, disingenuous major parties?

The solution is simple, boycott all major party candidates without the least consideration as they are ALL sell-outs! Indeed, that means not one candidate from any major party should sit in parliament or any democratic government house of any nation in the western world. Easily done at the voting booth.

WE continue to have the prerogative to choose in OUR best interests, which democratic right may soon be unavailable.

Inverse Times Open Publishing. <http://inversetimes.lingama.net/news/story-74.html>