

Today's Global Refugee Crisis and its CAUSE

by rob Friday, Jun 22 2018, 10:13pm

international / prose / post

Prior to dealing with the outcome issue -- millions of refugees fleeing for their lives to other nations -- I would draw your attention to the fact that the elite owned and CFR managed western mass media goes to great pains NEVER to mention or discuss the OBVIOUS CAUSE of the refugee crisis globally.

Latin American refugees are either fleeing to America from US supported corrupt governments and/or left-right extremist groups vying for power, which factors create the perfect environment for ultra-violent crime gangs exploiting the situation, which factors combined results in 'the chickens coming home to roost' for America/Trump; notwithstanding that America now faces the border problems it creates for many other nations and has demonstrated to the WORLD its complete INABILITY to deal with the refugee problems it creates.

Indeed, it is karmically fitting that the USA is now overwhelmed with the refugees it created by interfering in the affairs of numerous Latin American nations. America seems to prefer iron-fisted dictators to democratically elected governments in Latin America, and when by sheer weight of public support an independent (of Washington) government is installed by the people, the USA immediately begins to interfere with that nation with the aim of toppling, by any means, the democratically elected government. The result, as HISTORY confirms, is the formation of extremist groups, left and right, vying for power or attempting to overthrow existing puppet governments/dictatorships.

Entire Latin American nations have been wracked with this type of trouble for decades; and of course drugs and crime become major sources of income to finance these opposing groups and gangs in their ongoing wars, which makes life intolerable for honest, peace-loving citizens that are often pressed into service for one or the other warring group, or simply shot down in fire fights between bandits, gangs and/or government forces.

People are able to tolerate bad periods and conditions, hoping for the best, but then they flee when it becomes clear that constant American interference feeds these ongoing conflicts until a suitable puppet dictator is installed whose military and police then continue the murders out of the media eye, as they serve Washington, but the killing and oppression only increase while Americans enjoy cheap sugar, pineapples, bananas, oil and other available resources.

Now consider the millions of refugees fleeing the Middle East and North Africa that continue to swamp Europe -- from where have they come and what are they fleeing? Of course, after America assassinated non-compliant leaders and spread 'freedom, democracy and liberty' to many of these nations life became INTOLERABLE and people from these regions were FORCED by horrendous circumstances to flee their home nations, which are today, after American military intervention, unruly, ruined and in constant conflict; BUT European and American oil companies got what they wanted, the OIL, and to hell with all other considerations, hence the millions now fleeing intolerable conditions headed for Europe; indeed, America prefers to leave the problems it creates for other nations and civilian populations to deal with, leaving the mega-corporations and bankers to enjoy their spoils without carrying the burdens of criminal disruption.

So, people, how many mainstream news outlets in your western nation dares to address the OBVIOUS cause of most of the WORLD'S refugee problem, which for demented readers and those in pathological denial, CLEARLY is the corporate/banker controlled, USA, otherwise known as, A-M-E-R-I-C-A!

Have we finally got it now, you mass media duped mindless morons? And do I really need to state that to fix ANY problem the CAUSE must be addressed and DEALT with, Doh!

---

Inverse Times Open Publishing. <http://inversetimes.lingama.net/news/story-75.html>