

Symbiosis of Black and White Capital - Elite Crime Money and Elite Mega-corporate Money are One

I have no idea why this topic has never been overtly addressed, pursued and made public knowledge, that is, the marriage of organised crime wealth and the wealth of corporate/banker elites. This relationship is certainly not hidden, it is in fact an overt reality easily investigated by anyone with a computer and internet connection, at least for now, as western puppet governments world wide are now pursuing with a vengeance internet censorship and the modification/shaping of the free flow of information; for instance, a site like Wikileaks could accrue all the damning and compromising information it wants in the future, but if the public is prevented from viewing it then of what use is this information?

So be aware of the unified western push for State censorship under the usual guises, terrorist content, child porn, or under the new ambiguous terms of "undesirable," preserving "quality" content etc, which the mega-IT corporations use to justify their outrageous, ARBITRARY CENSORSHIP today -- alternative news sites have lost, almost overnight an average of 70% of readers with minimal chances of attracting new readers, but to continue on topic.

These vast sums in the $billions and $trillions share and use the exact same institutions to avoid tax, wash dirty money and then allow it to flow through society as power, conquest, oppression, and of course to accrue evermore money, after all money is only a means to an end and the more one has, the more one is propelled to express that money as power and status whether one likes it or not, it simply is a consequential outcome shaped and formulated by existing social structures and institutions. For example, 'off-shore banks' or tax havens as they are commonly known, were expressly designed by mega-wealthy elites to allow vast sums of money to be held 'washed' and then utilised in mainstream society, with the assistance of expert accountants and finance managers, usually supplied by the offshore banks/tax havens, with the advantage that the greater portion of this money was/is accrued tax free and its sources are almost impossible to trace thereby allowing its real owners cover to be able to channel those funds, sometimes through hundreds of shelf companies, into respectable ventures as it is re-circulated back into society, as 'clean' money, though it becomes evident that no money today is clean, which was also known by Buddha and the Christian saviour in their time.

Overt criminal money is viewed by societies at large as somehow tainted, which it is, as it has been accrued by illegal means, wheres money from petroleum companies and weapons manufacturers is viewed as clean money as those companies do not overtly engage in criminal activity, which is a MYTH. So, to put an end to the myth of dirty and clean money, we draw the attention of readers to the Iraq and subsequent invasive, resource thieving wars of the American State representing the major Corporations that benefit from the STOLEN resources, notwithstanding that millions of innocent lives are sacrificed for the profits of the mass murdering, criminal few. So is there really a distinction between dirty and 'clean' money? Absolutely not, as it was corrupt puppet governments that pursued these wars on behalf of their mega-wealthy corporate/banker masters, make no mistake about it.

These criminal interests have all western governments in their pockets, which also puts another myth to rest - that of democracy, as it is (vast) MONEY that determines the outcomes of elections today, ask yourself why it is that the majority of world leaders in the West are servile buffoons that know jack shit about politics, geopolitics, foreign affairs or anything else, they are clearly installed as lackeys to take orders from their elite criminal masters, that 's why!

Now one more historical example of the symbiosis or financial partnership of organised crime and state crime today that utilise each others' funds jointly for any purpose they wish.

During the time of the JFK presidency the criminal American CIA bungled numerous attempts to assassinate Fidel Castro of Cuba culminating in the disastrous "Bay of Pigs" invasion, which Castro had no trouble detecting and eliminating, with the added advantage of this CIA planned and orchestrated invasion becoming widely known GLOBAL news.

Needless to say, president John Kennedy was fuming over these compromising bungles and sought to withdraw necessary government funds from the CIA, which he hoped would help in its reform and change of leadership as at that period funds for the CIA were exclusively provided by government as are Pentagon funds today, as both are State 'agencies' in the literal sense.

However, the CIA realising that Kennedy had aimed at its Achilles heel then undertook immediate action to accrue its own (black) funds, illegally of course, and the most lucrative means of accruing vast wealth in the shortest space of time was via the illegal drug market.

Air America, a CIA cover company during the Vietnam war immediately sourced high grade heroin from the Golden Triangle and began to import that heroin into the USA using as cover the dead bodies of US soldiers, fact, if anyone wishes to verify - see "The Politics of Heroin in South East Asia" by Alfred McCoy.

Since then the CIA has been involved in the importation of hundreds of tonnes of cocaine from Latin America via air and sea from Latin American dictatorships it help install, which damaging drug products did grievous harm to American society, but do THEY care, after all, millions of innocents have been killed in the military pursuit of Oil profits today?

Currently the CIA, while it continues to be funded by government, has established a HUGE black fund of its own, hidden of course in offshore tax havens, which it uses to perpetuate many of its unaccountable 'black ops' around the globe and US governments have learned that it's not good policy to interfere with CIA operations or funds, after all the assassination of Kennedy serves to remind elite installed presidents that they are nothing but servants to the US 'Deep State or shadow government.'

You see people, today the world is run by criminals; now please by all and every means available, verify this reality for yourselves and then do something about it, as these criminal interests care little, if at all, for the welfare and lives of average people anywhere in the world - they serve and are part of an elite global criminal cabal that operates in cartel fashion.

Have a nice enslaved and deluded day if you fail to accept responsibility for your own lives, viewed as exploitable and worthless by mass murdering criminal elites. Though they have made it plain "that power issues from the barrel of a gun." The time for discussion and useless circular debate are over. Fight fire with fire or remain an expendable slave.
