

Bolivians Fight Back -- what are you doing in Mexico, Evo?

by Eoin Higgins via darcy - CommonDreams Friday, Nov 15 2019, 6:03pm international / prose / post

The Washington staged coup in Bolivia is straight from the FAILED playbook attempt in Venezuela. So how did Washington succeed in replacing a democratically elected LEGITIMATE leader in Bolivia with an UN-ELECTED, unrepresentative stooge?

Legitimate Bolivian President, Evo Morales -- you must openly return and fight for your people. You are duty bound, PRESIDENT Morales.

The most outstanding difference is that Venezuela's current leader, Nicolás Maduro, did not abandon his people, he had the people's support and so prevailed against every illegal attempt by Washington to oust him from power. Now compare to chicken-shit Evo Morales, who fled the coop to Mexico claiming that his life was threatened! Well, sure it was, but did that prevent Chavez and Maduro from fighting back against every dirty trick in the CIA coup book? No! Both leaders remained in their nation and fought back and succeeded in retaining the sovereign integrity of their nation.

So Evo, you are obliged AND DUTY BOUND to RETURN to Bolivia and lead your people in the fight against the Washington forces that are attempting to steal your nation. There are no other choices if you intend to save your people and nation. Think less of your own hide, you gutless wonder, running is the behaviour of cowards not a REAL leader! A leader becomes the nation and people and your life becomes secondary to that, as all real leaders are aware.

Bolivia is easily restored if you return and fight Evo, as killing you would trigger a huge retaliatory response from the people and Washington would lose the gambit. Indeed, both Venezuela and Bolivia have self-interested military traitors within, so what's new? Arrest the treasonous bastards with the majority will and law behind you and teach gangster America that Latin America is NOT "Washington's back yard." RETURN to Bolivia in OPEN DEFIANCE against Washington's CRIMINAL coup, You MUST support your PEOPLE!

External article follows:

"Do you think we are ignorant?"

Chanting "resign now" to Bolivia's interim, self-declared president Jeanine Añez, protesters across the Latin American country on Friday made their displeasure with the overthrow of the government by right-wing Christian extremists last Sunday known.

Thousands of demonstrators marched through the cities of La Paz and El Alto. Friday's protests follow days of unrest as the Bolivian people rejected Sunday's coup, which forced democratically-elected President Evo Morales to resign and flee the country.

An Indigenous woman, in comment to RT Thursday, asked if the coup leaders thought the people of Bolivia were ignorant of what was happening in the country.

Friday's demonstrations were a show of force by the Bolivian people against the coup government. Video and photographs from the country showed long stretching lines of people waving the Indigenous wiphala flag and calling for Añez to step down.

"Evo Morales has been a good man," a supporter identified as Sonia told Democracy Now! Thursday. "He worked for the people. He didn't rob from us like these thieves who want to shake up the state and kill us like dogs, as if we're not human."

Creative Commons attribution applies to external text.

Please follow link below for important additional Tweet information:

<https://tinyurl.com/yzz5m4sm>

Inverse Times Open Publishing. <http://inversetimes.lingama.net/news/story-900.html>